

First in First Aid

MEDIA RELEASE

22 September, 2006

St John on board with Tathra Bus Service

Tathra Bus Service has shown their commitment to the local Bega community by providing free transport to all uniformed St John Volunteers travelling to and from events.

Manager of Tathra Bus Service, Paul Pincini said "for the many years of valued service which St John Volunteers render to the community, Tathra Bus Service would like to show it appreciation and thanks."

Information about Bega Division

i.e number of members, approx number of duties per year, how many casualties each year and how many volunteer hours in Bega each year.

Information and quote from Beau

St John volunteers provided in excess of 350,000 hours of voluntary first aid to the community and treated more than 31,000 casualties over the last year.

To learn first aid or to become a St John volunteer call 1300 360 455.