Local Liverpool companies to receive special awards from St John (NSW)

Four companies in the Liverpool area will receive customer recognition plaques and certificates at a presentation ceremony held by St John Ambulance Australia (NSW) on Wednesday 6 February 2008.

The awards will be presented to show appreciation and thank the companies for their long and continuous support of St John.

Sydney Water Training Birrong will receive a special plaque, and Prysmian Power Cables Liverpool, Forktalk & Safetalk Campbelltown and MT Pritchard & Districts Community Club (Mounties) will all receive framed certificates.

Brett Hamilton, GM Business of St John (NSW) will present the awards. He comments:

“St John is a self-funded organisation, and without the support of companies such as these, we could not continue to fund the vital work of our volunteers. Training and first aid kit sales go directly to the charitable work of St John.

“These companies have for years called on our services to provide first aid training to their staff, as well as first aid products and re-stocking to ensure their workplace is as safe as possible.

“We are very appreciative of their commitment to St John.”

Media are welcome to attend the presentation.
